

43,000 Coal Miners Strike In 7 States

Solons Trying To Force U.S. To Action

Washington, Jan. 9—(AP)—The coal controversy hit the boiling point again today with groups of miners going out on strike in seven states and a move starting in congress to force White House action.

John L. Lewis, whose three-day work week for miners stirred the uproar, fired back at those who have been demanding government action.

Lewis said Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and others who have been calling on President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley law's national emergency provisions are trying to "oppress the mineworkers and cripple their union."

Lewis said in a statement, called Taft the "flamboyant oppressor of the poor." He tagged Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations board, the "hatchet man for the hi-profit tong."

More than 43,000 of Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners, members of the United Mine Workers Union, went out on strike in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Virginia, Utah, and Alabama. The pits of steel companies and the big consolidation coal company were idle.

A week ago another regional strike idled 13,000 miners in Illinois, but Lewis sent them back to work after they had missed their three-day work week.

A group of midwestern Republican legislators got behind a move to push a resolution through Congress declaring that the three-day work week has caused an emergency coal shortage and asking Mr. Truman to act.

The president so far has said there is no emergency warranting his intervention. Under Taft-Hartley, he could declare an emergency, appoint a fact-finding board to sift the facts in the dispute and, then, when the board reports, seek a court injunction to restore five day weekly production.

Denham also is considering an injunction against Lewis to restore full production. This could be sought under another section of the law. Coal operators have filed unfair labor practice charges, based on Lewis' tactics, and asked Denham to get a court order to stop them.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), Senate majority leader who asked for a close White House study of the situation last week, said today Lewis and the coal operators "had better get together and settle" their dispute "very shortly."

Lucas said this on leaving a White House conference, but he added that the coal controversy was not discussed in the meeting of administration leaders with Mr. Truman.

Youth Admits He Took Saw Blades Into Decatur Jail

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 9—(AP)—Sheriff A. C. Ammann said today a 17-year-old youth related that he smuggled saw blades into the Macon county jail where an escape plot was foiled Saturday.

The sheriff said the blades were carried into the jail concealed in candy bars by Robert Davis, brother of Charles Davis, one of four prisoners involved in the plot.

The younger Davis was held without charge. In addition to Charles Davis, who entered a plea of guilty to a burglary indictment in Circuit Court today, the prisoners implicated by the sheriff are Lynn Smith, John Kisse, and Ira Jackson.

After several bars of the jail bullpen were found saved through a search of the jail resulted in finding six saw blades. Four of these were fastened with gum under window sills, Ammann said. The other two were found fastened under a bunk with soap.

O'Dwyer Proposes New York State Legalize Gambling

New York, Jan. 9—(AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer proposed today that New York State legalize betting on public sports events and put it under the control of a state agency.

The mayor's surprise proposal, which seemed certain to stir up a far-spreading controversy, came on the heels of a sharp new crackdown on gambling in New York City, with 51 high-ranking police officials transferred and bookmakers reportedly fleeing to New Jersey.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and leaders of the Republican-controlled state legislature declined immediate comment.

O'Dwyer, a Democrat, said he wanted it "distinctly understood that I do not favor wide-open gambling but controlled gambling by the state."

He said he would ask the legislature, probably this week, for "corageous and sensible" action to wipe out existing anti-betting laws and substitute legal betting under strict state control.

This would have to go before the state's voters in the form of constitutional amendments. O'Dwyer said it would be "just as beneficial to the state as the elimination of the 18th amendment was to the nation."

High Court Refuses To Review Killing Of Ban On Crime News

Washington, Jan. 9—(AP)—The supreme court refused today to review a Maryland court decision which struck down curbs on publication and broadcast of crime news.

This means that the Maryland court's decision remains in effect, but Justice Frankfurter cautioned that the supreme court's action did not mean either approval or disapproval of the lower tribunal's ruling.

The only thing that can be said with certainty about the high court's action, he said, is "that it does not, remotely imply approval or disapproval of what was said by the court of appeals of Maryland."

The court of appeals decision struck down Baltimore city courts' unique gag rule on crime news. It also reversed contempt convictions of three Baltimore radio stations and a newscaster who had been fined for violation of the rule.

The restrictions are contained in not dead, at least dormant. The Rule 904 of the Baltimore supreme bench. Among other things they ban publication before a trial of news about a confession.

The news curbs were widely attacked as a violation of the freedom of the press. The American Society of Newspaper Editors, the American Publishers Association and the National Association of Broadcasters all intervened in an effort to have them struck down.

The Maryland Bar Association and other groups supported them.

The division on the high court was a division by saying that "fewer than four members of this court" favored a review of the Maryland decision.

Frankfurter indicated that there was a division by saying that "fewer than four members of this court" favored a review of the Maryland decision.

state, which appealed the case, might ask the high court to reconsider its action. Or it might choose to wait for a new case to arise before attempting to test constitutionality of the rule again.

For the present, at least, the governing decision is that which the court of appeals—Maryland's highest tribunal—handed down last June 9. A five man majority held that the Baltimore rule was "in the nature of censorship."

The case arose out of broadcasts made by stations WFBR, WSBM and WTTW and newscaster James P. Connolly about a confession made by Eugene H. James, negro, James was subsequently convicted and hanged for the murder of an 11-year-old white girl.

Except for the Maryland action, few of the cases which the high court acted upon today were of more than local interest.

Congress Cries For Economy

Washington, Jan. 9—(AP)—President Truman sent an unbalanced $42,439,000,000 budget today to a congress clamoring for economy. He said the spending is "vital to our security x x x and to the welfare of our people."

Unless congress cuts the budget or gives Mr. Truman the "moderate" tax increase he wants, the government would live $5,133,000,000 beyond its income in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The talk on Capitol Hill centered mostly on cutting expenditures instead of increasing taxes. Some members, however, expressed skepticism that any deep cuts will actually be made in this election year.

THE BUDGET AT A GLANCE

Next year: Income $37,306,000,000, outgo $42,439,000,000, deficit $5,133,000,000, national debt at year's end $263,800,000,000.
This year: Income $37,763,000,000, expenses $43,297,000,000, deficit $5,534,000,000, national debt at year's end $258,400,000,000.

House and Senate clerks read the message—longest presidential message in history.

Republicans Criticize
Long before they were through, republicans began pouring out criticism and raising cries of "spend-thrift socialism," "juggling," "economic ruin," and "bankruptcy." They promised to fight for spending slashes.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, republican Senate leader, said "the president sugar-coats red ink with flights into the great blue yonder."

On the other hand, Rep. McCormack, House democratic leader, called the budget message "soundly conceived" and said that in view of the international situation large spending for national defense is necessary.

Rep. Price (D-Ill.) said: "If it were not for the lack of peace in the world and the Soviet Union, we should have a balanced budget."

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) expressed doubt that there would be any real reductions "in this election year."

Truman Says Budget Sound
Mr. Truman insisted the budget is one of soundness, prudence and restraint. He said it is a financial expression of steps the government ought to take now "to build toward economic growth and the expansion of human freedom, in our own country and in the world."

It is pointed, he said, toward a "budgetary balance in the next few years."

"It is an honest budget, which meets the realities which face us," he said.

That $5,133,000,000 deficit in sight for the coming fiscal year is the difference between Mr. Truman's spending figure and a federal income tax estimate of $37,306,000,000.

The gap could be even bigger if congress fails to boost postal rates by the $385,000,000 Mr. Truman recommended. In the past the lawmakers have not shown much enthusiasm for even smaller postal increases.

The budget included billions for military and economic help to non-communist nations.

But national defense continued to be the biggest expense in the new budget, as in years past.

And there was a new proposal, to spend $1,000,000 to start hunting a way to change "salt water into fresh water in large volume at economical costs." Water shortages, the president explained, are a threat in some spots.

Cole Bros. Circus, Second Largest In World, Is Sold

Chicago, Jan. 9—(AP)—Sale of the Cole Brothers Circus, second largest in the world, to a new owner was announced today.

The purchaser is Otis circus corporation, headed by Charles H. Watson, lawyer at 10 South La Salle street, Chicago.

Watson said he represents buyers who are not disclosing their identity or the sale price at this time.

The circus was sold by Hoosier Circus corporation, represented by Fred Schortmeier, lawyer at 301 Circle Tower building, Indianapolis.

Hoosier circus acquired Cole Brothers in December, 1948, from Terrell Circus corporation, headed by Zack Terrell of Owensboro, Ky., and leased its operation to Cole Brothers Circus corporation.

Watson said Hoosier bought the circus on a conditional sales contract calling for regular installment payments.

He said Otis corporation hasn't decided whether to operate or lease the circus, but he declared the show, now at winter quarters at Ojus, Fla., near Miami, will be on the road in about two months.

14 Paraplegics To Attend Funeral Of Youngest Of Group

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 9—(AP)—A group of 14 paraplegics—men paralyzed from the waist down—will attend the funeral of Donald Theodore Lesley, 19, at Bethany tomorrow.

Lesley was one of them. He died Saturday in Mercy hospital here from infection and complications of a broken leg.

Don was the youngest of the paralyzed group studying at the University of Illinois. In their close-knit little fraternity, Delta Sigma Omicron, he was also the senior in years of affliction.

Most of the fraternity were put into their wheel chairs for life by World War II wounds which severed their spinal nerves.

It was in 1937, when he was seven years old, however, that a corn picker tipped over on Don at his father's farm near Bethany, in Moultrie county. Doctors said then that he might live a year.

But he recovered as much as he could, and took to wheels. He sailed through grammar and high schools with straight A marks and became an ardent basketball fan.

Don's will to live, and his adjustment to life, provided a rich fund of medical information used to rehabilitate war veterans who received injuries similar to his.

Flying Arrow Is Heavily Damaged By Gunboat

By Wayne Richardson
(Associated Press correspondent who started on home leave from China by signing aboard the Flying Arrow as a crew member. He is the only newsmen aboard.)

Aboard The American Freighter Flying Arrow, Jan. 8—(AP)—Extensively damaged by 30 to 40 shells from a Chinese nationalist gunboat, this American blockade-runner lay at anchor tonight in international waters off the approach to the communist port of Shanghai.

The nationalist naval vessel continued to stand guard nearby.

Capt. David Jones, 31, declared the Flying Arrow was unseaworthy and demanded that the U. S. state department take steps to provide safe passage into the nearest port for repairs, in accord with international practice for disabled ships.

The nearest port is Shanghai, for which this ship sailed early Saturday from Hong Kong in defiance of the nationalist naval blockade and the danger of mines.

Jones declared the attack occurred 19 miles off shore, clearly outside territorial waters.

None of the crew of 43, including this correspondent, and the 12 passengers, including seven women, was injured.

The Flying Arrow, however, was hit in many places and set afire. The British sloop Black Swan, which was patrolling nearby, sent a firefighting party aboard and helped subdue the flames in a hold and on the afterdeck in a three-hour struggle.

Captain Jones, a determined, stocky, 246-pounder from Chicago, estimated the number of shell hits at 30 to 40. He said 14 were in the after steering gear house. Some, two to four inches in diameter, were only four inches above the waterline. One machine gun bullet pierced the American flag flying on the taffrail.

(A nationalist navy spokesman in Taipei, Formosa, said the shelling was done by the gunboat Wujiang. Such a ship usually is armed with no more than 3-inch guns, plus smaller six-pounders and machine guns.)

(The nationalist spokesman declared the shelling was intended only to disable the Flying Arrow to save her from complete destruction by blundering into mines planted in the Yangtze estuary. He added that the Flying Arrow was "detained" and that "trade - crazy merchants should learn a good lesson.")

(In New York, Hans J. Isbrandtsen, president of the Isbrandtsen Line (which owns the Flying Arrow) denounced the Chinese nationalist version of the firing incident as "complete lies.")

(The United States government takes the attitude that the nationalists are violating international law in trying to blockade Shanghai and in firing on American ships. However, it has refused previous Isbrandtsen demands for a naval escort, and the state department has warned American captains they risk loss of their licenses by going into a "zone of danger.")

JURY RULES DEATH OF SALESMAN A SUICIDE

Chicago, Jan. 9—(AP)—Ralph A. Cohen, 27, a salesman from LaPorte, Ind., committed suicide while mentally deranged, a coroner's jury decided today. He was found shot to death yesterday.

5 Philly Stores Fined $2,500 Each For Price Fixing

Philadelphia, Jan. 9—(AP)—Philadelphia's five largest department stores were fined $2,500 each today after they pleaded no defense in federal court to charges of conspiring to fix prices.

The stores and nine officials were charged with violating the anti trust laws in an agreement to eliminate small deviations in price endings.

The nine individuals also pleaded no defense and were given suspended sentences.

In suspending the penalty, Judge Guy K. Bard said he was influenced by the fact that the practice complained of had been discontinued and the stores had cooperated fully with government agents in the investigation that proceeded the indictments.

The defendants were John Wanamaker Philadelphia, John E. Reasch, its president, and Richard C. Bond, executive vice president and general merchandising manager.

Gimbel Brothers, Inc., Arthur C. Kaufmann, its vice president and Gustavus Gidley, merchandise manager.

Strawbridge and Clothier, Dwight C. Perkins, its president, and James A. Waterfield, merchandise manager.

Lit Brothers, Harold W. Brightman, its president, and Max Robb, executive vice president and general merchandise manager.

N. Snellenburg and Co., Inc., and Nathan J. Snellenburg, its vice president.

PMW Miner Is Out Of Job For Putting Gas Heat In Home

Collinsville, Ill., Jan. 9—(AP)—A union official confirmed tonight that a 56-year-old coal miner is out of work—temporarily, at least—because he insists on installing gas heat in a house he is building.

Dino Frattiglione, president of progressive mine workers, local No. 3, said that Charles Walchekauskas was taken off his job this morning as a precautionary measure.

"The men were very, very upset when they learned that Walchekauskas was installing gas heat," Frattiglione said. "They thought he had gone a little too far. They said they wouldn't work today unless we sent Charlie home."

Frattiglione notified the superintendent of the Lumaghi Coal Co. here and the shunned miner left his job.

"We had to let him go," the superintendent said. "We couldn't afford to close the mine for one man."

Mrs. Walchekauskas said the reason she and her husband want gas heat is to provide more comfort for their 20-year-old adopted son, Edward, who was stricken with rheumatic fever about six years ago.

TRUMAN WRITES OFF FORMOSA

No one anywhere in the world can have any doubts about the policy of the United States toward Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek's island bastion 100 miles off the South China coast.

In words it would be impossible to misinterpret, President Truman has declared we will extend no military aid or service to the Nationalist armies of China, nor will we use our armed forces to intervene in any way in Formosa's defense.

The President did leave the door open to economic aid already authorized for China under ECA. But the amount and timing of any such assistance he did not spell out.

What this decision means is that the remnants of Chiang's forces must try to stand off an expected attack from the Chinese Reds without any real help from any quarter. And it is plain our government does not believe the Nationalists have the will to resist.

Coupled with Britain's formal recognition of Red China, Mr. Truman's statement is a bitter blow to Nationalist morale—or what's left of it.

It is also a hard pill to swallow for former President Hoover, Senator Taft, other lawmakers and those of our military leaders who may have joined the statesmen in urging, quietly or otherwise, that we keep Formosa out of Communist hands even if we have to use armed force.

The decision is an unmistakable triumph for Secretary of State Acheson. He feels measures short of armed intervention would be futile. And he thinks military action would find us courting major war, because we have no assurance whatsoever that Russia would not help the Chinese Reds.

Furthermore, Acheson is convinced that strong steps in Formosa would serve to alienate other now friendly Asiatic countries. The belief is they would see intervention as high-handed tactics little short of aggression.

In setting this policy, Mr. Truman did not indicate what he thinks is Formosa's strategic value. Those who want the island held rate it a vital link in our outer Pacific defenses. The President conceivably might agree as to its importance but still view its loss of less moment than the danger of getting into war by defending it.

Anyway, whatever storms may rage about his head, he now seems firmly committed to letting Formosa go by the board. It would be a definite surprise if the insistent shouts from Capitol Hill and elsewhere led him to change his mind.

Three Youths Killed In Car, Transport Crash West Of Pittsfield

Pittsfield—Three Pike county young persons, one a 12-year old boy, met death early Sunday morning in an automobile and transport truck collision on U. S. Route 36, eight miles west of this city.

The dead are Hayward Patterson, 12, of Pittsfield; Charles Hildreth, 24, of Griggsville, and Clifford Tysinger, 21, of Valley City.

Two other youths, also in the Hildreth automobile, were injured and are under treatment at Illini hospital. They are Claudette Kayson, 14, of Pittsfield and Shirley Patterson, 13, sister of Hayward.

The Patterson girl is suffering from concussion and her condition is reported to be serious.

The driver of the Riss truck lines vehicle C. B. Woolery, was released from the hospital apparently with no injuries. The large truck from Kansas City, Mo., traveling east and the automobile crashed headon. Sheriff Clifford Windsor, of Pike county, said few details were available on the accident.

The collision occurred on a hill that was void of ice or snow. The engine of the auto was thrown clear of the chassis. An inquest was canceled Sunday afternoon and reset for 7 p. m. Friday by Coroner Walter M. Plattner.

The bodies of Hildreth and Tysinger were taken to the Skinner funeral home in Griggsville. The remains of the Patterson boy were taken to the Plattner funeral home in Pittsfield.

The Tree That Really Grew In Brooklyn

New York —(AP)— You've heard that a tree grows in Brooklyn. But did you ever stop to think what would happen if you didn't want a tree to grow anymore in Brooklyn? Harken, then, to this tale of a landlord's woe.

He owns a house in Brooklyn front yard, a tree sturdy at the base with a towering poplar tree in the but balding at the top.

Most trees attacked households in only one way—the roots creep into the basement and try to throttle the furnace. But this poplar tree attack from top to bottom. Its powerful roots kept breaking into the cellar, and its crown shed decaying branches on the heads of passerby.

Thought Of Laysuit
"Somebody's going to sue me if I don't get rid of that tree," the landlord decided.

But how do you get rid of a tree in Brooklyn? It was too tall to be axed by an amateur.

Well, naturally, in this day and age, when you get a problem too big for personal handling you turn to the government. But which government? The only thing this landlord hated worse than tenants was governments. He thought all tenants paid too little rent and all governments asked too much in taxes.

Although his tree grew in New York state, which is part of the United States, the landlord decided that both Governor Dewey and President Truman would deny that its removal was either a state or a federal responsibility. No use to ask them.

But how about Mayor O'Dwyer? He was the guy! Brooklyn was his bailiwick.

So the landlord, who is a Republican, swallowed his pride and asked his tenants, who are Democrats, if they wouldn't ask the city administration, as a favor to them, to please come and take away the tree.

Weeks passed. And then came a letter from the health department. The landlord's glass smile changed to a frown when he read it. It was a summons, and it said in effect: "Your tree is hereby and to wit declared a community menace. YOU get rid of it."

"That's government for you!" He hired a crew of men to take down the tree. Then he checked and found they had no insurance against being crushed by a falling tree. Then he checked his own insurance. He found that if the tree blew down in a hurricane, wrecked his house and killed his tenants, the insurance company would pay up to $40,000. But if he hired somebody to remove the tree and it toppled on the house and killed the tenants—he would have to pay all damages himself.

Well, finally, the landlord went to a professional tree removal firm. They said they would cut down and take away his tree for a mere $400.

"I could get a couple of beavers to gnaw it down for the bark," he barked.

"Go ahead," they said. "We're not trying to drive beavers out of business."

The upshot of the matter is the landlord will have to pay $400 to get rid of his unpopular poplar tree. And he still is wondering what his tenants really asked the health department to do.

The moral of this tale is that if you buy a house in Brooklyn with a tree in the yard, be sure it is a young tree. And chop it down quick!

Quick Breads Made in Short Order With Mix

"COFFEE" MENU
Date Nut Rolls
Sugar Frosted Muffins
Apricot Bread
Pecan Squares
Coffee

One of the nicest ways to say "welcome" is over a cup of coffee, and an assortment of tempting quick breads. But that does not mean you'll be spending long hours mixing up the dough for each bread. Instead they are made in short order from homemade biscuit mix. By taking a few extra minutes some morning the flour, baking powder, salt and lard sufficient for several bakings are combined at one time and stored in the refrigerator for use as desired.

When baking time comes, just enough milk is added to the biscuit mix to form a soft dough—about 1 cup for each cup of mix. For richer muffins, a beaten egg is added in addition to the milk.

Use Imagination
Using a little imagination, the quick breads may be as varied as desired. For clever date nut rolls, the rolled dough is cut into strips, half pecans are stuffed in pitted dates, then rolled in the strips. Sweetened fruit or a confectioners sugar frosting sprinkled with chopped nuts present other delicious topping variations.

With orange juice and rind or grated cheese, muffins take on a different look. Muffin dough may be sprinkled with a cinnamon and sugar mixture before it goes in the oven for a sweet sugar topping. Or combine peanut butter and flour in this same manner.

In addition, the homemade mix shortened with lard may be made into tender and flaky shortcakes, strudels, cobbiers, or dumplings.

Homemade Biscuit Mix

8 cups sifted flour
1 cup baking powder
4 teaspoons salt
Lard (13 cups for hard wheat flour or in cup for soft wheat flour.
Sift flour again with the baking powder and salt. Cut in the lard until the mixture has a fine even crumb. Place in a closed container and keep in refrigerator, using as desired. The mixture will keep at least a month in the refrigerator. To make biscuits add enough milk to desired amount of mix to make soft dough. Yield: 10 cups mix.

GAS PRESSURE Like Rock in Stomach

One Jacksonville man stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a rock in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. His food would turn to gas. Recently he started taking CERTA-VIN and says the feeling like a rock in his stomach disappeared the second day. Now his food agrees with him, no more gas and he feels like a new man.

CERTA-VIN is a new, scientific formula. It is taken before meals and works with your food; thus you get the fullest good out of your meals. It contains Ten Great Herbs, plus vitamin B and iron. It not only relieves gas, it also makes the nerves stronger with vitamin B and enriches the blood with iron. Miserable people soon feel better all over. So don't go on suffering! New Hearing Device Has No Receiver Button In Ear

Chicago, Ill.—Deafened people are hearing a new device that gives them clear hearing without a receiver button in the ear. They now enjoy songs, sermons friendly companionship and business success with no self-conscious feeling that people are looking at a button hanging on their ear. Tiny Phantomold fits so deep within the ear that it is hardly seen. Sound is relayed to it by an inconspicuous tube from a button concealed in the clothing. The makers of Beltone, Dept. 40, 1480 W. 9th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement they will gladly send you their free brochure (in plain wrapper) and explain how you can test this amazing device in your own home without risking a penny. Write Beltone today. (Adv.)

Mr. Wright, who served as state treasurer from 1941 to 1943, announced his candidacy several weeks ago. He said his petition bearing more than 10,000 names is ready to be filed with the secretary of state Jan. 16.

GRAINS WEAK ON BOARD OF TRADE

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Chicago, Jan. 9.—(P)—Grains started off with a weak look and never developed any strength on the board of trade today.

Selling picked up speed toward the close when stop-loss orders were uncovered. Declines of around 2 cents were rung up in most pits.

The late selling followed a report received from Europe by private houses that the economic cooperation administration had cut France off from receiving any more grants to buy American wheat. It was said this action was taken because France had sold wheat to another European country.

Previously, the market had encountered a dribble of selling orders coming in small lots from commission houses. A house with eastern connections was conspicuous in this early liquidation.

Receipts were: wheat 18 cars, corn 146, oats 19 barley 20 and soybeans 7. Wheat closed 11-24 lower, March $2.15 1/2, corn was 2 to 2 1/2 lower, March $1.28 1/2, oats were 1-1/2 lower, March 73, rye was 2-1/2 lower, May $1.41, soybeans were 2 1/2 to 3 cents lower, March $2.31-2.30 1/2, and lard was 5 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $10.75.

New York Stock Market

BY WILLIAM D. HORGAN
New York, Jan. 9.—(P)—The stock market kept both feet on the ground today in another 2,000,000-share plus session.

Price changes were limited mainly to fractions. Gains and losses were well divided. Rails made a late bid for favor.

Rising tendencies cropped out now but they were soon smothered under heavy profit taking operations.

The market opened with a rush and for a short time the high-speed ticker tape was unable to keep up with reporting actual transactions on the floor of the exchange. Small advances were scored all along the line but they were soon clipped down. In the afternoon buying became a little more insistent.

Turnover expanded to a rate of around 2,400,000 shares for the full day.

Details of the 1950-51 budget made little dent on the market, probably because the budget lined up pretty well with expectations.

American & Foreign Power $6 and $7 preferred stepped out of the fractional range, each gaining around 4 at one time.

Others trending forward included Greyhound, Standard Gas and Electric, U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Philco, Allied Chemical, Dow Chemical, General Electric, American Tobacco, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Eastern Air Lines, U. S. Gypsum, and Southern Railway.

Every Homemaker Can Learn At Food School

The Food Pageant Cooking School, which opens in this city at the Fox-Elm theatre on Tuesday, Jan. 17, will be the Mecca for homemakers young and old during the four daily sessions. Presented as a public service by the Journal Courier, this event affords experienced cooks as well as young brides the opportunity of keeping full abreast of all that is new and timely relative to the selection, preparation and nutritive value of foods.

Miss Dorothy Holland, the cooking school lecturer from the staff of the National Livestock and Meat Board, and her assistant, Miss Nancy Carter, in their extensive contacts with homemakers across the country, have become familiar with many of the diverse and perplexing problems of the women who serve three meals a day to their families. Their training and experience has provided them with helping, down-to-earth facts of value in solving these problems. What's more they appreciate the privilege of being of help wherever possible.

A Varied Program
Relative to the coming cooking school, Miss Holland, who is in charge of the program each day, makes the following statement: "The school has been planned so as to present worth-while practical ideas which will make the homemakers' tasks easier—with facts about meal planning, menus and cookery methods given special emphasis."

"During the four-day program we will offer tips on how to stretch the food dollar—how to make the meals interesting and full with variety—how to select menus which are not only appealing but also high in nutritive value. We will stress the use of low temperature in meat cookery, the cooking method to use in the preparation of the various meat cuts, and demonstrate new ideas in making cakes, pies, salads and deserts. We are sure that the homemakers attending will appreciate the opportunity of learning new menus to introduce in the family breakfasts, luncheons and dinners.

Come Every Day
"No matter how busy you homemakers may be, you will find it profitable of shaping your plans so as to attend each of the four sessions. For each session is different—centering attention on different dishes and different problems."

No matter what dish you see prepared, you will find the ingredients used and the methods fully described in the recipe book which is given to every homemaker attending.

Plan right now, to be on hand when the cooking school opens Tuesday, Jan. 17. You will enjoy the school and gathered ideas which will be helpful for months ahead in planning the family meals.

Mahala McGehee Presents Piano Recital Sunday

Miss Mahala McGehee of MacMurray College presented a difficult and varied recital in Music Hall on Sunday afternoon.

The program opened with the quaint and delicate "Rondo" by Hummel and was followed by Beethoven's difficult "Sonata in C Major, Op. 53." The "Allegro" movement, expressive of both joy and religious emotion, was played with quiet restraint. The "Introduzione: Adagio molto," which forms the core of the sonata, was conspicuous for the richness of its sustained tones and depth of feeling. The second movement moves with songlike passages into the brilliant and technically exciting "Rondo." A gentle, peaceful motive reappears frequently throughout the sonata which ends in a triumph of joy. Miss McGehee's presentation of this important composition proved her a versatile musician and an able technician.

A Chopin group followed. This was distinguished by the performer's poetic interpretation. Throughout the "Scherzo" in both agitated and hymn-like passages the performer displayed complete mastery of this difficult composition.

Of the concluding group, "The Maiden and the Nightingale" with its haunting melody was outstanding for its beautiful tone. A second Spanish composition, "Triana" by Albenez, provided a vivid picture of gypsy airs.

After "Triana" the program concluded with the brilliant "Tragic Poem" by the Russian composer, Scriabin. This composition is characterized by rhythmic vitality, and the performer made a good adjustment of tonal dynamics to the tragic mood-picture.

Burglars Visit Stores At Franklin, Waverly; Steal $100 From Safe

Sheriff Ralph Bourn and Deputy Sheriff Jack Andrews went to Franklin and Waverly early Monday morning to investigate robberies committed in those towns sometime Sunday night or early Monday morning.

The officials reported that the K&W grocery store at Franklin was entered sometime during the night and considerable money and merchandise stolen.

The proprietors of the store reported that $20 in cash was stolen together with 15 to 20 boxes of cigars, four cartons of cigarettes, two boxes of candy, nine pounds of boiled ham, two picnic hams, six pounds of bacon, five pounds of cheese and some work clothing. Entrance was gained by breaking a window.

The Waverly Implement company building, located on Route 104 west of Waverly, was entered through a window.

Cash and Checks Missing
The burglars took a number of tools from the implement company workshop and piled them near the safe, but discovered that they could open the safe by working the combination. The robbers obtained $100 in cash and a number of checks from the safe but did not disturb anything else in the building, although there were a typewriter, adding machine and other office equipment in sight.

A window on the east side of the building was smashed in and the burglars evidently entered and left the building through this opening.

The implement building is located outside the city limits of Waverly and the Waverly night policeman does not check the building.

Sheriff Bourn and Deputy Andrews spent the entire morning in Waverly and Franklin. They expect to make further investigation

Tuesday.

Morgan county has been free from burglaries for some time, but towns and cities in counties surrounding Morgan have had numerous robberies during the past few weeks.

Barber Leads Hogan By Two Strokes Going Into Pay-Off Round

Los Angeles, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Tournament pressure hit dark-horse Jerry Barber, and the sun and Ben Hogan both got back on the beam today in the $15,000 Los Angeles Open.

Setting the stage for a hectic finale tomorrow in the 24th edition of the Los Angeles fixture, Barber remained on top of the field but the ominous shadow of battling Ben, his come-back campaign in high gear, loomed dangerously close behind.

Goes Over Par First Time
Barber, a 33-year-old pro from Pasadena, went over par for the first time in the tournament and stance.

Hogan opened his bag of golf putts weren't dropping as before, magic and out popped a sub par 69 and he needed them badly as he and a total of 211, a scant two shots scrambled around the course.

Today's story centered on Barber, the unfortunate who had the tournament sewed up, only to lose out when rain cancelled yesterday's third round, and on Hogan and his return to the golfing ways after a disastrous automobile crash 11 months ago.

There were others crowding into the battle, however. Youthful Jack Burke of White Plains, N. Y., fired up and coming Red Raiders pulled the round's lowest score, 68. It the string on Arenzville, tripping the left him just one stroke back of Hogan.

Snead Settles For 214
Snead Vines came in with a performance to settle at 213, and ing up Arenzville's high scoring Don Sam Snead, his putter misbehaving just when it seemed the slammer would jump into close contention, took a 71 for 214. Tied with Snead, the Chambersburg seconds on the preliminary 31-27.

III., who took 75 blows to get around the par 35-36—71, 7,019-yard layout. Pool, f. 6 4 16
Barber started the round with a two-stroke edge on Ransom and five strokes over Hogan and Vines. To-Rog Ham, led Chambersburg tomorrow he'll have just two shots edge on the deadlied guy in the business and that's not enough room for comfort.

Hogan, looking strong and rested, clipped three strokes off par on the first nine, bagging three birdies. His iron was beautifully executed. One approach left him with a seven-inch putt for a birdie, another died just seven feet from the cup. He got ment pressure hit dark-horse Jerry Barber, and the sun and Ben Hogan both got back on the beam today in the $15,000 Los Angeles Open.

Spike Wilson's I.S.D. Tigers conclude a three-game post-Christmas home stand this evening, entertaining New Berlin's Pretzel quintet on the westend boards while Jacksonville high and Routt are away on foreign conquests.

Game times are set for 7 and 8:30 p.m. at I.S.D. where the westenders tangle with a better-than-average New Berlin ball club. In two other games since the holidays, the I.S.D. club grabbed a pair of two-point decisions from Franklin, 38-36, and White Hall, 53-51.

They leave Wednesday for Louisiana, Mo., to compete in a 16-team, four-day, invitational tournament. Jacksonville high school, fresh from an easy (second half) win over Beardstown last week which boosted their record to 9-2 for the season, tangle with very much respected nest of Mt. Sterling Hornets on the Brown county boards.

Championing at the bit, the broad-shouldered Detroit fireballer stopped at Briggs stadium today for a visit with General Manager Billy Evans of the Tigers.

Combining business with the social call, Trucks got right to the point—talking terms for 1950. In a few short minutes he had penned his name to a 1950 Tiger contract.

Neither Trucks nor Evans would comment on the salary terms, but the Tigers' No. 1 hurler of last year was believed to have signed for something like $22,500.

In Evans' words the Birmingham, Ala., right-hander got a "substantial increase" in pay for having led the Detroit pitching staff with a record of 49 wins and 11 defeats.

The 1949 campaign easily was the best of the big right-hander's eight-year big-league career. Trucks led the league in strikeouts with 153 and was second to Boston's Mel Parnell in the earned run department with a mark of 2.81.

Illinois Takes First Conference Victory From Purdue 59 To 54
Champaign, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Defending champion Illinois broke into the Big Ten basketball victory column tonight with a 59-54 triumph over Purdue. The Illini took an 83-62 thumping at Ohio State in their second league start last Saturday night.

The Bollermakers, whose coach tonight was urged to resign by the Lafayette, Ind., Journal Courier, made a scrap of it down to the last half-minute when they trailed only 56 to 54.

But three Illini free throws in the final 30 seconds clinched the host team's first conference win after the loss to Ohio and an opening defeat by Wisconsin.

The Lafayette paper urged Coach Mel Tanbe to quit because, it said, he failed "utterly to provide fine inspiration and psychological leadership for eager and talented young men."

Forward Bill Erickson of Illinois, who watched Purdue's Dick Axness for high point honors with 19, matched a conference record by sinking nine of nine free throw attempts. Axness also had nine gift shots to go with five baskets, but missed two free throws.

It was Purdue's second straight Big Ten defeat and sixth loss against four wins for the season.

Shooting by both teams was ragged, Illinois bagging 18 field goals in 70 shots and Purdue 15 in 61 attempts.

After moving in front, 49-36, early in the second half, Illinois nearly was caught by a late Purdue surge sparked by Norm Greiner and Andy Butchko.

Howard Williams, Purdue guard, played about 15 minutes despite an injured knee. The Bollermaker scoring star, however, contributed only two free throws.

The Illini were charged with a large total of 32 fouls, but the Bollermakers converted only 24 of 39 chances at the free throw stripe.

Axness cooled off in the second half after bagging 16 of his 19 point total in the opening period.

A capacity crowd of 6,905 witnessed the game at Huff gym.

Illinois Wesleyan Wins Little Nine Tilt From Millikin
Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Illinois Wesleyan won its first Little Nine basketball decision tonight, topping Millikin, 71-57.

Despite Scott Steagall's 22 points, Millikin was unable to keep pace with the host team after leading briefly 22-20 four minutes before the halftime. Six-foot, seven-inch Johnny Lane paced Illinois Wesleyan with 18 points.

Ted Wilks Agrees To Redbird Terms
St. Louis, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Ted Wilks, the St. Louis Cardinals' No. 1 relief pitcher last season, agreed to salary terms for 1950 today. He left for his home in Houston after a conference with club president Fred Saigh.

Howard Pollet, southpaw pitcher who chalked up 20 victories last year, also conferred with Saigh, but no agreement was reached. Pollet also lives in Houston.

OLKIES WHIP MISSOURI
Norman, Okla., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Oklahoma revenge its pre-season Big Seven conference tournament defeat tonight and whipped Missouri 41-36 in a loop basketball game before 3,500 persons.

The Athletic Boosters took a huge stride forward when they elected Ford Jackson to lead them through the first year of organization. A civic leader from the tip-off to the final horn, Ford has always been a driving force behind such events as the Jacksonville-Routt holiday tournament. Since the gavel was handed to him last night he's an odds on choice in our book to pound out some more worthwhile athletic ventures, with the help of some 30 boosters of course.

Russell Shields, our Greenfield operative, sends out an SOS for independent basketball teams. The Greenfield American Legion is preparing for its fifth annual independent basketball tournament which will be staged Jan. 16-20. It's a sixteen team affair but so far only eight teams have entered. Interested indee clubs in this vicinity should write to Richard White, Greenfield, says Shields.

Jerry Barber, diminutive 33-year-old professional golfer from Jacksonville who has jumped into the national spotlight by leading the feared Ben Hogan through three days of the Los Angeles Open, will become a martyr to the sport if he doesn't retain his two-stroke lead today and claim the booty. Jerry had the meet all wrapped up and tied with a square-knot Sunday afternoon when Hogan undid his efforts by protesting a muddy track, thereby calling off the dogs work. Had that not happened, Barber would have finished the winner, today, following his good round Sunday. As it is he must battle it out an extra day forfeiting Sunday's tally to Hogan who couldn't stand the California "sunshine."

Illinois college is climbing steadily in the acclaim of the Little Nine college conference fathers who wouldn't concede the Blue-boys a ghost of a chance for the title when the season opened. They have improved by leaps and bounds and are just about ready to start making the big boys eat their sloth-spoken words.

The feast should commence when the locals invade Ill. Wesleyan, Millikin and Wheaton for their toughest conference battles. And when it happens we want a seat front row center for we may come in for a share of the "crow pie" ourselves.

Three Jacksonville professional baseball aspirants are attending Jack Rossier's baseball school currently in session at Cocoa, Fla.

Stan Spotts, who played two months of last season with the Orlando class D club, property of the Washington Senators, was accompanied by two other local youths, Francis Bunch and Ralph Race. Spotts is a shortstop and the other two boys are first basemen.

Eddie Miller, a major league shortstop for 12 years and now a member of the Philadelphia Phillies, has been added to the instructors staff at Cocoa.

Baseball games will be played each day after five days of conditioning exercises. Andy Seminick, Phillies catcher, is supervisor of the school.

Bradley Easily Clips Georgetown Basketeers 79-39
Peoria, Ill., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Bradley University's basketball Braves, leading all the way, easily defeated Georgetown of Kentucky, 79 to 39 tonight. It was the Braves' 12th triumph in 14 games.

Bradley, streaking to a 52-21 half-time lead, toyed throughout the second half with the hapless eastern foe. It was the Braves' third straight win since they bowed to Kentucky in the finals of the Sugar Bowl tourney.

Forward Charley Grover paced the 16 players employed by Bradley with 11 points. Georgetown's high man was forward Charles Pennington with nine.

It took Bradley 11 minutes to build a 25-8 advantage, and then the Braves rattled the hoop for their one-sided halftime bulge.

Bradley invades the east later this week, meeting Manhattan at Madison Square Garden in New York Thursday night and St. Joseph at Convention Hall in Philadelphia Saturday night.

Oakford Grade School Basketball Meet Starts Today

Games will be played at the Oakford community hall.

Shouse Leads Blueboys To 91-51 Cage Victory Over McKendree Five

Lebanon, Ill. — With every gear meshing perfectly, Illinois college's mighty basketball machine hammered out a 91-51 non-conference victory over the Bearcats of McKendree college here last night.

In showing their record to 9-2 for the season, the Hilltoppers prepared for another Little Nine conference tussle next Saturday—that at North Central where they'll meet their Redbird league foes.

Nine Blueboys joined in the scoring parade that left McKendree without hope immediately after the Jacksonville collegians jumped into a 9-0 lead at the outset. Only Bobby Lee, who came to McKendree by way of Mt. Vernon and a state high school basketball championship, was able to click against the Millermen. The little curly haired guard hit for nine field goals and collected five gift shots for a 23 point total. Shouse Scores 24 Points

But Bill Shouse, Miller's all-conference guard, played the game too. The deadly shooting Blueboy poured in 11 tries from the field and added a pair of free throws to outscore everyone with a 24 point tally. Barney Vilk, a neat workman, shot 7 in 17 tries from the field and on the Illinois college scoring sheet. Bob Grove got in his licks, hitting for 13 before he was taken out of the game with a sprained shoulder. The injury wasn't serious. Al Miller hastens to inform and Grove will be back in action this week.

Ex-footbalers Don Longer and Bill Gross were up to their old tricks under the bank-boards and completely dominated rebound play. Both scored in the two digit numbers with 11 points each.

FACES SENATE FIGHT—The

nomination of Carroll O. Switzer, Davenport attorney, above, to be U. S. judge for the southern district of Iowa, has renewed a squabble between President Truman and Sen. Guy M. Gillette (D., Ia.), over Switzer's confirmation. Gillette last year successfully opposed Senate confirmation of Switzer for the post, but after Congress adjourned Mr. Truman gave him a recess appointment. To retain his judgeship, Switzer now must have Senate confirmation.

British Sunday Called Dull

London—(AP)—Investigators who wondered what the British do on Sundays have the answer: "nothing particular." The report was by "Mass Observation," a group of sociologists and mass opinion experts who market studies of British life and habits.

Totting up the average Briton on Sunday, the surveyors said 14 out of 20 listen to the radio, eight out of 20 visit or entertain, eight go for a walk, four potter around in the garden, four visit the pub, two go to the movies, three go to church. Most people do at least two of those things.

Britain Has More Cars, Worse Roads

London—(AP)—The number of motor vehicles in Great Britain has increased by nearly a million since 1938, but the condition of the country's roads is deteriorating rapidly, the British Road Federation announces.

In 1938 3,094,000 motor vehicles were registered in Great Britain. They have increased to 4,016,000 in 1949. Private cars now total 2,107,000 compared with 1,944,000 in 1938.

I Love My Doctor

By Evelyn Barkins

Copyright by Evelyn Barkins. Reprinted by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE very next morning after John's appointment was confirmed, and just four weeks after the family confab, was the day of our sixth monthly wedding anniversary.

What a special day! My first disappointment came with the absence of any greeting from John in the early mail. Could he have forgotten? The traitorous thought came. Unbidden, into my head as I made the bed, and I tried to banish it quickly, as if I had been caught harboring fugitives from a chain gang in my cellar.

"What's the matter, dear?" John asked anxiously, as I all but dumped his coffee in his lap. "Nothing," I replied tartly.

When the time came to leave for school, I offered my cheek to John as if it were only a cardboard facsimile of the same, and was furiously enraged when he didn't even notice the difference.

I arrived home in time for office hours, and after a hurried sandwich in the kitchen, went right to work.

"This is what I really am," I raged inwardly as I smiled sweetly at Mrs. Gillette's twins, and commented cheerfully on Mr. Hansen's fractured foot. "A slave in his house! Someone to work for him!"

"What on earth's the matter?" John whispered from time to time. "What happened?"

But I was set on dying for my cause. "Nothing," I snarled.

Unfortunately, it was a very busy day. Following afternoon hours, John had to rush out on some calls. He phoned finally from the hospital to say he was detained on a ward case, and would eat there, so I needn't wait dinner. "As if I want dinner!" I thought.

It wasn't until after evening hours, about 9 o'clock, that we ultimately had a chance to talk. "Now," said John firmly, cornering me in the treatment room before the door even really closed behind the last patient. "What's it all about? What's wrong?"

My pride spoke up again. "Nothing at all," I repeated gloomily, sounding like Bette Davis in a histrionic death scene.

I tried to free my hand, John said determinedly. "That's what you said all day!" Then he changed his tone of voice. "Please, darling," he pleaded, "I thought we were going to share everything."

The new attack upon my former resolutions unnerved me, and my defenses crumbled. "It's our sixth-month anniversary," I sobbed into the office towel. "A whole half year! And you forgot!"

John looked as stricken as if he had just heard himself accused and found guilty of the most serious crime in the book.

"Oh, sweetheart," he said, when he found his voice, "I'm sorry. I don't know how it slipped my mind. Won't you forgive me?"

"Only six months?" I moaned, starting to cry again. "And you don't care for me any more?"

"I do," he said, speaking more loudly.

"You don't. You don't love me or you wouldn't ignore me," I was approaching the height of my own crescendo, like a mezzo-soprano reaching for high C. "Oh, oh," I wept.

Just then the doorbell sounded piercingly above our noise, and we automatically ceased arguing, like the sudden dispersal of sidewalk brawlers at the sound of a police siren. In the unexpected silence, the doorbell rang again.

"Want to play possum?" John recovered first. "Should I ignore it?"

"You get it," I said to John, hurriedly wiping my eyes, and blowing my nose in the towel. "I'll be right out."

WHEN I came into the living room a few minutes later, Bob and Agnes were seated on the couch, each looking very much like the whale must have after he swallowed Jonah.

"We've got something to tell you," Bob said, with suppressed excitement, and my apathy lifted a little.

Watching the expression of pleased importance on Bob's face now, I asked, "You don't really mean you're getting...?" I paused in astonishment.

"Married," they both concluded. "We are."

"And soon," said Agnes. Her face was flushed and prettier than before. There was a new confidence and happiness in her voice, and she seemed to have acquired the courage to use it. "I'm not going to let him change his mind," she laughed gaily, but with a hint of serious purpose in her jest. "He might get away!"

Bob grinned self-consciously, while I whispered to John: "Close your mouth." Then the prospective groom said: "Now, Aggie, you know I'm stuck for good," in so fatuous a tone that even I gaped.

Then Agnes said, "We wanted you two to be the first to know, except for our families, of course, because—well, you've both been kind of an inspiration for us right along."

Just before they left, Agnes turned back to me impulsively and said, "I hope that Bob and I will be as happy as you and John."

I was obviously emotionally overcome by this final remark, but not in the way Agnes thought. "Ah, if you only knew!" I felt like saying, like the disillusioned woman of the world I now knew myself to be. But John hurried forward, and spoke before any evidence of my demoralization could be noticed: "I hope you will be very happy, Agnes," he said a little sadly, and closed the door.

After their departure, the argumentative wind was primarily out of my sails, and it seemed definitely awkward to return, at this point, to the scene of the crime.

"Well," said John to my stiff back, "imagine that!"

Morgan TB Seal Campaign Below Quota For 1950

An S.O.S. is being dispatched by Morgan County TB association to all residents of the county, which is among several suffering a decrease in the sale of Christmas seals. The report of sale funds obtained here up to the close of the business day, Jan. 6, is lower by $546 than the figure of the corresponding date in 1949.

The period of concentrated effort on these sales is drawing to a close, though a year around service is made available by the TB association and donations are not limited to any particular time. Reports for national and state organizations are now requested.

The association wishes to extend a note of appreciation to the 3,288 individuals and families who responded promptly by sending their returns at an early date and thanks are also given for the many notes containing helpful suggestions.

The call for help is directed toward all whose reports have not yet been received. Their envelopes may have been laid aside or may have been among the 982 returned by the post office for various reasons, chiefly wrong or insufficient address, by answering immediately.

The organization also asks anyone who has been unintentionally overlooked to take this opportunity of making an offering, since the doctors, health department and TB associations are also here for their benefit.

Contributors may make their checks payable to Miss Mabel Wilthee, Seal Sale chairman, 1107 S. Clay avenue, Jacksonville, Ill., in order to help reach the goal established for this year.

Says Liberal Arts Colleges Educate Women By Default

Cincinnati, Jan. 9 — (P)—The president of the University of Illinois asserted today that "the liberal arts college thus far has educated women largely by default."

Dr. George D. Stoddard, speaking at the American conference of academic deans, said, "Little attention has been paid to the cultural or occupational interests of women."

"The curricula," he continued, "resemble the offerings set up for men who have decided not to become teachers, engineers or experts in any field. Even women's colleges, which shut their eyes to the fact that 80 per cent of American women become homemakers, for the most part on a full time basis."

Dr. Stoddard suggested that women's college studies should include teaching, home economics, physical education, social welfare, nursing, occupational therapy and secretarial services.

The meeting of the conference deans was held in connection with the convention of the Association of American Colleges, which opened officially tonight. Approximately 600 college presidents and other college officials are expected.

Heavy Tank Company Inspected, Approved

Major Herman O. Voigt, senior ORC army instructor from the Decatur sub-office last night recommended the promotion of the newly formed Co. B, 32nd Heavy Tank from Class C to Class B. He said his recommendations to upgrade the local unit will be forwarded to the commanding general of the Fifth Army.

Major Voigt inspected personnel and records of the company at the V.F.W. Home on East Morton road Monday night.

The company hopes to attain a Class A rating within the next few months, which would place it on the same basis as a National Guard unit as far as the number of pay drills per month is concerned. Any person interested in joining the company is requested to contact the commander, Capt. Russell Vernor, past commander of the 498 Replacement company.

Any person with previous military experience is eligible to join, Capt. Vernor said. This includes all branches and services of the army, navy, marines or air corps.

Assisting in the inspection were Col. William J. Murray, Major Rector C. Wilson and M Sgt. Arthur A. Baker of the Springfield sub-office.

The heavy tank battalion unit was moved to this city from Springfield on Nov. 1, at which time the members of the 498th Replacement Company and some from Company A, 485th Engineer Combat Battalion transferred to the unit, releasing the 498th to Waverly and Company A of the 485th to Winchester.

Capt. Vernor said the transferred strength of the unit was four officers and about 15 enlisted men. The company has grown to seven officers and 40 enlisted men, one a Waac attached.

Vincennes Takes Breather As Levee Upstream Breaks

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 9 — (P)—The sandbag crews took time for a long breath today—an upstream levee break brought the Wabash river flood crest prediction down to a relatively safe 28 feet.

Army engineers said the believe the flood wall along this historic city will hold a 28-foot stage. They hadn't been so sure before the Niblack levee broke north of here Sunday night, when the weathermen feared the water might hit the top of the 29-foot wall.

The opening Wabash poured over 16,000 acres of farmland behind the breached levee, seven miles upstream. The Weather Bureau in Indianapolis said that would save the city from a 29-foot crest by Thursday morning, even though an inch of rain is expected throughout Indiana tonight and tomorrow.

"It's mostly a question of what the levees do now," weatherman Fred Maher said. After the Niblack levee broke, rumors of other upstream levee breaks spread here like wildfire today.

The sandbaggers had already seen what a levee break could do. The water level fell today, reaching a stage of 25.87 feet this afternoon, compared with the 26.19 level yesterday before the break in the Niblack levee.

Lawyer Makes Vain Effort To Secure Freedom For Killer

Chicago, Jan. 9 — (P)—A defense lawyer made a vain attempt today to gain freedom for Richard Tamborski, 28, charged with murder in the holdup-slaying of two Brinks Express guards.

The attorney, Emmet Byrne, asked his client's release on the basis of a state law which says that a defendant should be freed if four consecutive grand jury monthly terms elapse without either a continuance motion by the defense or a plea for extended delay by the state.

Tamborski was arrested in Alaska Aug. 19 and was brought to Chicago Aug. 31. His four months in custody elapsed Dec. 31.

Criminal Court Judge Stanley H. Karkowski denied the motion. He said "we must be reasonable in these matters; the people are entitled to some protection."

Trial of Tamborski and Joseph Jakalski, 31, will begin Wednesday. Two other men also charged with murder will go on trial later.

The Brinks guards, Bruno Kozol, 36, and Joseph Den, 46, were machine gunned last June 25 outside the South Chicago Savings Bank.

Wild birds will flock for feedings of dry bread, pie crust, melon and squash seeds, sunflower seeds, apple, lettuce and suet.
